

In the Know

Order a gingerbread replica of your house. Then, check out Nigella Lawson's kitchen and load up on gifts for your favorite food lover.

Home Sweet Home

Here's a way to finally get a second home: Have your first one copied in gingerbread. We sent a photo of this Connecticut house to Ginger Betty's Bakery in Quincy, MA (215 Samoset Ave.; gingerbettys.com), and owner Beth Veneto created this 23-inch-long replica. She ships around the country, and Enchanted Gingerbread in Nashville (3748 Moss Rose Rd.; enchantedgingerbread.com) and Solvang Bakery in Solvang, CA (460 Alisal Rd.; solvangbakery.com), do the same. The houses start at about $150 and go up to a few thousand—not cheap, but better than another mortgage.

GINGERBREAD HOUSE: MARKO METZINGER/STUDIO D; INSET: DAVID CARPENTER, FOOD STYLING: ELIZIA CREADO, KENDRA COOLEY, C.J. GOODMAN, VILNARFESCHE, JOANIE LAWLOR.

Every little detail is edible!
